- Adequate, relevant, and limited to what is necessary to meet its “legitimate purposes”.
- Accurate and as far as possible kept up to date and any inaccuracies corrected without delay.
- Kept in an easily accessible form for no longer than is necessary for the purposes for which the personal data is used. Personal data may be stored for longer periods providing it is used solely for archiving purposes in the public interest, historical research purposes or statistical purposes.
- Held securely, including protection against unauthorised or unlawful access and against accidental loss, destruction, or damage.

Any data breach will be immediately reported to the Information Commissioner’s Office and the individual(s) affected notified.

What personal data we collect?

Personal information is any data that can be used to identify you. ABWT will only collect, store, and use it when we have a specified reason to do so in line with its “legitimate purposes”. We will usually collect the following basic information about you from you directly if you are donating, booking events, registering as a volunteer, or buying merchandise:

- name and title
- postal address
- telephone number(s)
- bank account details for setting up a regular direct debit, if appropriate
- Gift Aid declaration
- photographs/video of event attendees
- emergency contact details
- medical conditions if they might impact on health and safety (we only hold health information which an individual has provided, unless you have an accident whilst volunteering for us, in which case we may collect additional sensitive personal data in the event of an insurance or legal claim).

ABWT may also collect, store and process information about your dealings with us. This might include the date, time, content, and method of contact (including face to face meetings), details about donations you make to us, events, or activities that you register for or attend, how you have helped us through volunteering or any request for support.

ABWT may also collect and record other relevant information that you share with us about yourself, such as your interests or affiliations with other charities, community or campaign groups, local Council or planning team. We sometimes receive personal data about individuals, such as volunteers, from third parties, for example when we partner with another organisation for volunteering, e.g., the National Trust.

Your data rights.

You have legal rights for the control of your data, which includes the right:

- for confirmation as to whether ABWT holds your personal data
- to obtain a copy of the information ABWT holds.
- the right to have inaccurate data corrected.
- to have your data erased, except where it is necessary for ABWT to continue to use the data for a lawful reason.
- to object to ABWT processing your data for marketing or profiling.
- to receive your data in a common electronic format where ABWT holds it either based on your consent or for the performance of a contract.

You can contact ABWT at any time to access, change or update the details we hold on you. You have the right to obtain a copy of your record free of charge. However, ABWT may charge a fee of £10 if a request is manifestly unfounded or excessive, particularly if it is repetitive. We will need to ask you to confirm your identity. If you want to find out more about the information we hold about you or what we do with it, please contact the Secretary.

ABWT must provide you the information without delay and at the latest within 15 working days of receipt. We may extend the period of compliance where requests are complex or numerous. If this is the case, we will inform you within 10 working days of the receipt of the request and explain why the extension is necessary. If you believe that any information we are holding on you is incorrect or incomplete, please write to or email the Secretary at the address given above, as soon as possible.
